THREE TENTATIVE JURORS SEATED IN SNOOK CASE Record Far Behind "St. Louis Robin"

"See You Christmas" Is
Word From Two
Birdmen

Lambert Field, St. Louis, July 24.—In bald contradiction of the long-accepted theory that what goes up must come down, the endurance monoplane "St. Louis Robin," which soared into the air on the morning of Saturday, July 13, did not the slightest disposition to come down as it entered its 12th day of consecutive flying.

As the sturdy monoplane, which on July 12 had added 23 hours of flying to the world record formerly held by the "Angeleno," cruised into the 270th consecutive hour of flying, it began to look as though the journey "see you Christmas" message of the pilots was not so utterly fantastic after all.

The brilliant orange-colored monoplane still remains the cynosure of all eyes in the St. Louis district. All eyes turned upward this morning to watch the plane as it glided monotonously across the heavens like a great beetle.

A crowd estimated at 50,000 was at the field last night to witness the fireworks demonstration prepared to celebrate the achievement of the "St. Louis Robin" in breaking the world record.

MANY ATTEND TICKET HUNT

Ten Salem Children Are
Finders: Chautauqua
Opens Thursday

Nearly 100 boys and girls took part in the ticket hunt sponsored by the Salem Chautauqua committee this morning. The boys and girls met at 9 o'clock at the Memorial building and walked to the Columbia school where the tickets had been hidden.

The successful ten were: James Spaulz, 70 Woodland Ave.; Archie Bricker, 205 South Union Street; Harry Bichel, Union Street; Charles Eversten, 205 Euclid Avenue; LaVerne Libert, 300 Roosevelt; Marcelle Fisher, 97 Columbia Street; Max Lane, 23 Woodland Avenue; Glen Whitcomb, 19 Hawley Avenue; and Harold Miller, 91 East Eighth Street. These finders will be entitled to all the programs offered by Redpath here beginning Thursday morning with junior town.

Lindberghs Thought On Camping Jaunt

Clark N. M., July 24.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride were believed by airport officials here today to be "camping out" somewhere between here and Winslow, Ariz., following the colonel's failure to arrive here yesterday afternoon.

The famous couple hopped off from Winslow shortly before noon yesterday, apparently bound for the east.

Reckless Driving Charge Is Lodged

An affidavit, charging Nick Maier, Salem, with reckless driving, was filed in Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston's court today by Burt Capel, father of Richard Capel, 8, who was struck by Maier's machine, Thursday, July 11.

Richard sustained injuries about the head, and a broken leg. No formal arrest of Maier was made, attorneys for plaintiff and defendant agreeing to bring the case to trial next week. Maier denies the charge.

W. C. T. U. Entertains

Lisbon, July 24.—Inmates at the County Home will be entertained by the W. C. T. U. Thursday, and in addition to each person registered at the institution being given a remembrance they will be served with ice cream and cake. The women's organization will also hold a basket picnic at noon, being their annual gathering at the county home.

'SUGARTREE' MAY BECOME PASSE

Movement On Foot To Change Name of Alley
Now Paved

With paving of Sugartree alley completed, a movement was in progress in the city today, to change the name of the thoroughfare and discard the name of "Sugartree," adopted years ago.

Several citizens had planned to present a petition to city council, at an early meeting, asking the council to pass legislation, changing the name, but these plans were delayed through the request submitted by property-owners of East Sugartree alley asking council to pave the alley east of Garfield, to Vine st.

The alley is now paved with concrete from Garfield to Ellsworth. The additional surfacing of the alley eastward will provide a direct means of taking great amount of traffic from Main st., the purpose of council in having the work completed.

The petition asking council to surface the alley east of Garfield represented owners of controlling foot-frontage in that section and it appeared likely that agitation after the name will be deferred until the entire project is completed.

The alley is already being used extensively for traffic. Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston reported today. He said it is a great improvement.

CENSUS SURVEYS BUSINESS WASTE

Great Distribution Costs
Form Problem For 1930 Workers

Washington, July 24.—Penetration of the "statistical darkness" that shrouds the causes for nearly $10,000,000,000 annual waste in the distribution of commodities between producer and consumer will be one of the principal objectives of the 1930 census.

Phases of this gigantic burden shouldered by the American public in the form of higher living costs, will be discussed tomorrow by the commerce department advisory committee on the census of manufacturers which is to meet with Secretary Lamont.

In discussing the broad field of the next census today officials declared that the combined information compiled in the survey of manufacturers, distribution, unemployment and population will go far toward showing the way out of the most sticky economic quagmire that hampers American business.

The committee on the manufacturers, census, made up of leading business men, will consider ways of extending production statistics to distribution. The large loss in distribution was believed to be generally partitioned out over all the channels through which goods move to the consumer.

Despite the remarkable progress made in eliminating production losses and wastes, little progress has been made in erecting an effective distribution system. This system has grown in a haphazard way and without vitally essential statistics, obtainable only through a careful census taking.

Police Chief T. W. Thompson figured prominently in the breaking of a chain of counterfeiters, which climaxed in the arrest of Dominic Spottleson, of Canton, in Stark county, by Canton city detectives at the request of federal agents Tuesday afternoon.

Evidence collected by Thompson in the past month following passage of spurious notes in Salem, Damascus, S. Brim, Westville, Alliance and Canton, was submitted to the federal officers, at Cleveland last week, resulting in Spottleson's arrest.

Spottleson was identified by Wallace Calladine, owner of a filling station in Damascus, as the passer of the counterfeit notes, when brought to this city yesterday afternoon, by the detectives, police reported today.

Eastern Ohio was flooded with spurious $20 notes in the past month. Spottleson allegedly having passed several hundred dollars worth in Salem and vicinity about June 5. Thompson and other Salem policemen conducted thorough investigations of the case, and referred the matter to federal departments, when evidence collected proved that the case was out of the Salem force's jurisdiction, in that the counterfeiters were making other cities their headquarters.

Thompson made a special trip to the federal office in Cleveland and precipitated the matter, last week, while attending the Ohio Police Chiefs' convention.

WORLD PEACE PACT SIGNED

Representatives of Forty-Six Nations Gather In Washington

Washington, July 24.—In a simple ceremony that contrasted strangely with the significance and solemnity of the undertaking, President Hoover today proclaimed the effective-ness of the world peace pact, under which 46 of the most powerful nations of the earth have bound themselves to renounce war, and never to seek settlement of their disputes by other than peaceable means.

Withal the simplicity of the ceremony, it was a glittering assemblage that took part in the momentous drama of "outlawing war."

Around a great horseshoe table set up in the historic east room of the White House sat the representatives of 46 of the powers, duly solemn and impressive. They may have their doubts as to the ultimate value of the treaty in preventing war, but if it was not apparent in their grave main today as they sat and heard Mr. Hoover repeat the simple 78 words that, if lived up to, will lead to the limbo of impossible things.

President Hoover spoke the 78 momentous words at the outset of his brief address to the representatives of the powers:

"Article 1.—The high contracting parties, solemnly declare, in the name of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another."

"Article 2.—The high contracting parties agree that the settlement of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

Coal Mine Property Sold; Price Small

St. Clairsville, O., July 24.—The Apex Coal company, near Jewett, is in new hands today, and the purchase was made with $38,000, according to D. A. Elkins, receiver.

The valuation of the Apex mine, three years ago was $500,000, which shows the rapid deterioration of mining property and equipment.

Salesman's Body Found In River

Lancaster, O., July 24.—Laying face downward in the shallow water of the Hickory river, the lifeless body of George L. Shaw, 69, a Bible salesman, was found today. There were cuts on the body near the throat.

Coroner W. H. Eck had not determined whether death was accidental or whether Shaw committed suicide.

GENERAL LOGAN FELAND, commander of the Second Brigade of U. S. Marines in Nicaragua, did excellent service in controlling a troublesome condition. He has just been awarded the distinguished service medal star for "exceptionally meritorious service."

MAYOR OUSTS POLICE CHIEF

Youngstown Department
Head Deposed By Executive

Youngstown, July 24.—Paul Lyden, former sheriff, today announced his acceptance of the office of Youngstown's chief of police, following the dismissal of J. J. McNichols, 67-year-old police head, by "Fighting Joe" Hoffmann, mayor, yesterday.

McNichols was ousted when he ignored the mayor's demand for a "housecleaning" in the police department.

The dismissal was seen here as the outgrowth of disagreements between the mayor and McNichols over the reinstatement of two policemen who had been discharged for the alleged theft of liquor from the police store room. Mayor Hoffmann had ordered the patrolmen reinstated on the ground that similar conditions were prevalent among the members of the department and that it was unfair to single out only two for punishment.

McNichols had been connected with the Youngstown police department for 38 years. He had been its chief for the last two years.

Freight Car Charge Faces Salem Youth

Marlin Lutch, 18, was turned over to County Probation Officer J. H. McCready on a charge of breaking the seal of a freight car, on the Pennsylvania railroad siding, and entering the car as a result of investigations conducted by Salem police and P. F. Palmer, railroad detective, in the theft.

Lutch denied the charge, and is scheduled to face Probate Judge Riddle Monday.

The case is an aftermath of the capture of nine Salem youths, who admitted entering the car and taking melons, but denied breaking the seal.

Congressman Steele Dies In Washington

Washington, July 24.—Rep. Leslie J. Steele (D) of Georgia, who has represented the fifth Georgia district in congress since 1926, died at Garfield hospital this morning, following an operation for gallstones.

A blood transfusion was given the congressman, but it did not save his life.

Two Killed When Oxygen Lets Go

Berlin, July 24.—Two persons were killed outright, three others are missing and are believed to be dead, and eight more, including a woman, were injured in an oxygen explosion in an ice factory at Borzig-walde, north of Berlin, today.

The explosion of the oxygen containers destroyed several buildings and tore the roofs from others.

Fire broke out and spread rapidly through adjacent structures. Employees of adjacent factories fled, fearing further explosions.

RESTORATION OF RAILROAD SEEN AS PEACE MOVE

China Faces Pressure To Force Returning Of Property

CHINESE FIRE ON
RUSSIAN PLANES

Troops In Fury, Wish To Launch Attack; Officers
Restrain

Washington, July 24.—Pressure is seen to be exerted on Nationalist China to relinquish arbitrary control of the Chinese Eastern railroad, the seizure of which by China has brought her to the verge of war with soviet Russia.

This was clearly forecast in official and diplomatic quarters here today. Responsible officials stressed the belief that it would not be possible to settle Sino-Russian differences except by going back to the status quo ante—in other words, for China to back up to the extent of restoring to Russia what was originally Russia's.

Considered Necessary
How this is to be accomplished remains to be seen, but the budding of a backfire of world public opinion against Chinese retention of the railroad appears to be the object of Secretary of State Stimson. Restoration of joint control of the railroad is considered essential to a "justifiable settlement" of the controversy by officials here.

Reports that Japan is "miffed" because she feels that she was injured in Stimson's peace move last week did not make much impression here.

Stimson disclosed that when he moved with such rapidity last Thursday, it was because the situation did not admit of delay and he did not bother about questions of precedence among the nations he advised of his contemplated "reminder to both China and Russia that they were signatories to the Kellogg-Brand pact."

He made this clear when questioned concerning the technique of the approach to Russia through France.

Hostilities Occur

London, July 24.—While the powers of the world continued their diplomatic efforts to bring about a peaceful solution of the crisis between soviet Russia and China, ominous messages reaching here from the far east today indicated that danger of actual hostilities is far from past.

Dispatches from Harbin, principal city of Manchuria, the theatre of the Sino-Russian dispute, stated that Chinese troops had opened fire upon Russian planes flying over the Manchurian frontier, throwing the Russian forces into a fury of war fever unprecedented since the quarrel first broke out.

When the first fusillade of Chinese shots directed at the planes was heard, the messages reported, the red troops were thrown into a fury, and discipline was almost demoralized among the ranks by outbreaks of mutiny.

Air Tour of Ohio Scheduled Soon

Columbus, O., July 24.—Plans approved Tuesday, and made public here today by the Commercial Aeronautics committee of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce indicate that a tour of Ohio, embracing nearly all the larger airports of the state, will be made between August 19 and 24 as one of the many ways in which aeronautical industries in Ohio will be displayed to the general public.

Local chambers of commerce have pledged their support in making the tour successful, and already more than 25 planes have indicated their participation in the trip.

Airports included in the probable itinerary are: Dayton, Gallipolis, Cincinnati, Marietta, East Liverpool, Canton, Youngstown, Akron, Ashland, Van Wert, Defiance, Fostoria, Tiffin, Fremont, Toledo, and Cleveland.

Submarine Tests Prove Successful

San Diego, Cal., July 24.—The possibility of submarine disasters was declared lessened today as the result of the rescue of the V-4, the navy's largest undersea craft, which, with its crew of 67 officers and men, was "blown" from the bottom of the Pacific ocean to the surface, 80 feet above, in a test made of Imperial beach.

The giant submarine was raised in 23 minutes by the rescue ship Ortolan by blowing the ballast tanks of the sunken craft.

No Rest for the Successful

One Armed Drivers Get Warning

Mansfield, O., July 24.—One armed bear brumblers of the road will have to learn to use both arms—and only for driving too—in Richland county, according to Sheriff R. A. Schuch.

A drive which today is just hitting its stride and is headed by Sheriff Schuch, will endeavor to rid the county of all reckless drivers.

An offender who was caught with one arm around his girl, the other resting on the steering wheel of his car, by a deputy sheriff, was charged with reckless driving.

The case was dropped with a reprimand and a warning to all others to desist from the practice.

HOOPER FACING DIFFICULT TASK

Reduction of Army Cost Gigantic Problem; Many Have Failed

Washington, July 24.—In launching a campaign to reduce the cost of national defense, President Hoover today had undertaken a task that brought only defeat to Calvin Coolidge and to virtually every occupant of the White House since the Civil war.

In setting out to slash army and navy expenditures, Mr. Hoover must win over a hostile congress, which repeatedly has ignored presidential recommendations for "scrapping" in national defense.

The president incidentally must achieve his proposed economies in a congress that now has pending a half dozen proposals for increasing expenditures—and in a congress that only recently ordered a naval cruiser building program over presidential opposition.

Republican leaders in the house, in which army and navy appropriations originate, frankly expressed doubt over the possibility of success for the president's plan. Administration spokesmen in the senate, which must likewise approve all economies, found the president's proposal rather surprising in view of the known attitude of congress toward the national defense.

The president meanwhile was subjected to criticism from leaders of both parties and from both ends of the capital. Senator William H. King of Utah declared military expenditures were far too high, but that the president was making a "mere gesture" in turning over the question of economies to army officers themselves.

MacDonald Holds Meeting With Dawes

London, July 24.—United States Ambassador Charles G. Dawes held a conference with Premier Ramsay MacDonald at 10 Downing st. today. Immediately afterward the premier presided at a meeting of the cabinet.

It was assumed that both dealt with negotiations for a naval reduction conference.

Reports were current before the meeting that Premier MacDonald might cancel his plans to go to Washington this autumn to confer with President Hoover.

SLAYER'S TRIAL DRAWS THROG TO COURTROOM

Former Professor Waging
Battle To Escape
Execution

FATHER, MOTHER OF
MISS HIX PRESENT

Possible Mystery Still
Hangs Over Disclosures
To Come

BULLETIN
Columbus, Ohio, July 24.—Three jurors, two women and a man, had been tentatively accepted today at the trial of Dr. James H. Snook, the 49-year-old college professor, for the murder of 25-year-old Miss Theora Hix, his co-ed paramour, when court recessed until 1:30 this afternoon.

It is the trial of Dr. James H. Snook, a cultured college professor of 49, for the sensational slaying of Miss Theora Hix, an attractive, fun loving co-ed of 25, whom he beat to death on the night of June 13 last after a quarrel over whether he should spend the week end with her or with his wife and baby.

It is an absorbing drama with a "college background." It is replete with arresting "psychological angles." It involves people of education and refinement. In the background is a romance that developed in the atmosphere of a great university, Ohio State, and ended in murder in a "lover's lane" where Snook had taken Miss Hix for an automobile drive.

Dr. Snook is ready for the ordeal of trial by jury. Six weeks in a drab prison cell has failed to break the self complacency of this tall, scholarly looking man of "the dangerous age" who swept aside home ties in the pursuit of a vast infatuation for a girl half his years. He is determined to stage a hard battle to escape the electric chair on the plea of "emotional insanity."

Pathos Attends Case
An element of pathos is injected into the case by the presence of the slain girl's heart-broken parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hix of Bradenton, Fla., and formerly of New York City. Hix, too, was an educator. For 35 years he was a principal in one of New York City's schools. He is now retired on a pension at the age of 64 years.

"I am here to do anything I can to see that justice is meted out in the case of this man Snook," said the gray-haired father of the slain girl, a ring of vehemence in his voice.

Mrs. Hix, a quiet, motherly looking woman, remonstrated with her husband when he became denunciatory toward the man who brought tragedy into their lives in their declining years. She has little to say, but the tears tell its own story.

The wife of the defendant, Mrs. James H. Snook, is incommunicado. She has been in seclusion in her home and has given out no interviews since the murder. She has, however, paid a surreptitious visit or two to the jail where she has talked low and confidentially to her husband, Snook, interviewed in his cell by International News Service, said she was "standing by him loyally."

College Students Killed In Wreck

Pittsfield, Mass., July 24.—Two college students were killed and a third was seriously injured today when the automobile in which they were enroute to New Haven, Conn., was hurled off the road at a sharp curve and crashed into an apple tree at Haverock, near here.

Harold Hall, 23, of New Haven, was instantly killed, Frank W. Shepard, 22, of Pittsfield, Pa., sustained a fracture of the skull and died at House of Mercy hospital here.

Woman Killed When Auto Strikes Tree

Springfield, O., July 24.—Mrs. Sarah Deaton, 23, Dayton, Clark county, was instantly killed here today when the auto in which she was riding crashed into a tree.

Paul Deaton, 22, the dead woman's husband, who was driving the auto when it was smashed, was seriously injured.

THE APOLOGIST

Taking a London call at its face value, Mr. Benjamin C. Marsh, of Washington, is the latest American apologist to turn up in the British metropolis and today for the favor of the people of Britain.

Speaking before the anti-imperialist conference there, a few mornings since, this particular victim of subservency declared that the United States has embarked with the election of President Hoover on a policy of world financial and economic domination.

"While most of the rest of the world was fighting for world trade and commercial supremacy from 1914 to 1918," he went on to say, "our ruling class, whose capital was Wall Street, not Washington, were figuring out with a cold-blooded Christian calculation on which horse to put our money."

"Unlike the Earl of Beauchamp in the Crimean war, we picked the right horse after it was a sure winner and continued to ride it as both winner and loser."

The case of Mr. Marsh, said as it is, would not be worthy of notice were it not one of a list of poor unfortunates who labor under the delusion that they may carry favor with Europeans by traducing the home land they so signally disgrace. In some European lands they may accomplish their purpose, but hardly in Great Britain, and especially in England. The English are a patriotic people, full of love of country, and such a people can not do other than despise those of other lands who speak disparagingly of the lands from which they come. It is indeed hard to understand how American apologists, who would seek to misrepresent our course in the World war or the American policies of today, can so fearfully misjudge a people so proud of country as the English by assuming that they would look with favor upon other nations who come to them fawning with slurs upon their lips for their own lands.

NEW LINERS

The announcement made Wednesday by Joseph E. Sheedy, head of the corporation operating the United States lines, that his organization will put into the transatlantic service in 1932 two liners, costing $25,000,000 each, which will be the equals in size, speed and luxury of anything afloat and be capable of carrying 4,000 passengers each, should have proved pleasing to all friends of a high-class United States merchant marine.

The announcement came almost upon the heels of a Paris cable to the effect that the French would launch in 1932 a great liner much larger and faster than the Ile de France and almost coincident with the starting of the North German Lloyd's new liner, Bremen, on its maiden voyage to this country and the relaunching of her sister ship, the Europa, which was gutted by fire shortly after she was launched some months ago.

The Bremen has proved the fastest passenger vessel afloat and with the Europa, of practically the same speed, Germany will be equipped to make strong appeal to the traveling public. With the Ile de France, the reconditioned Paris and the liner to be constructed, France will prove a strong competitor for ocean travel. Italy has announced that two of her liners will launch a mighty liner to round out their services by using her in common; the White Star line has a 1,000-foot liner on the way to complement the service afforded by the Majestic and the Olympic, and the Cunard people are about to begin the construction of a vessel of approximately 1,000 feet in length to round out the service offered by the Berengaria and the Aquitania. With four liners equipped to offer fast weekly sailings across the North Atlantic and Italy prepared to offer splendid service, the United States lines, with the Leviathan, their one first-class vessel, would offer but sorry competition. With two great liners to supplement the Leviathan, they too can offer the ocean traveler weekly sailings second to none.

Fifty million dollars for two pasenger ships is a staggering proposition at first glance, but the United States lines are forced to have vessels equal to any afloat if they are to give service and draw their share of the North Atlantic business.

What Others Say

VACATION TIME

Perhaps you haven't had it. But you want it—your vacation. The green fields call the laughing waters invite, the wide, out of doors summons the tired worker. The appeal of nature is strong, it comes from the primitive ages, it is as insistent in the dawning days of time, when man and his mate withdrew to the jungle or sped away across the dubious waters in quest of rest, relief from the tedium and the struggle for existence.

The mountains and the seas call—the lakes and the rivers and the woodlands. We take our days, or our weeks off according to the situation of our environment and the condition of our financial affairs. We work strenuously, and there comes a time when we want to play. We want to indulge in golf, or tennis, or rowing, or swimming, or just lying in the sand on the shores of some body of water. We want to place our business and workaday maxims and habits for a time in cold storage, so to speak. We want to get away from rust and wear of toil. We want to shout and sing and wander as our far forefathers did in the days ago. So we go, mostly back as near nature as we can get. And that is wise.

Rest means renewed energy. Employers have learned this truth; they not only take advantage of the vacation time themselves, but pass on to their employees this priceless privilege. From factory and store and business office at this season pour the multitudes, to win a bit of real life and health and happiness by winding ways and murmuring waters, on mountain heights or in fair fields—anywhere that promises variety, change from the humdrum routines of necessary daily activity.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, July 25.

With so many of the planets working at cross purposes on this day, it may be difficult to make much headway against their thwarting influx. There is likely to be a friction, futility and obstruction in almost every line of endeavor, although there is shown some possible benefit following an abrupt change or removal. It is enjoined that financial losses be guarded against, and that affairs be not complicated by personal inharmonies, intemperance indulgences of mental depression.

Those whose birthday is may prepare for a year of opposition and obstruction, although there is a likelihood of some new avenue of opportunity to present itself, which may involve change, travel or removal. However, it would be ill-advised to take long chances, either in speculation or investment, as financial loss is indicated. Also loss of employment, dangers and personal inharmonies or hazards.

A child born on this day may have some peculiar talents or high aspirations, but generally may find it difficult to make progress, unless schooled in self-restraint, frugality and prudence.

Defeat may serve as well as victory to shake the soul and let the glory out.—Edwin Markham.

MENTAL EXPLOSIONS
UNDERMINE SYSTEMBY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Not long ago I had lunch with Senator Swanson of Virginia. The senator is very much of a philosopher. His active mind rules the whole gamut of life. It is surprising how many things he has given serious thought.

DR. COPELAND

A good many times the senator has mentioned these articles. The other day he asked if I wouldn't like a few subjects for discussion. I would be glad to have them, saying, "I can write on any subject if I have the subject."

That was said in jest of course, but for one who writes an article every day, day after day, and year after year, it does help a lot to have somebody suggest a subject he would like to have discussed.

That is one reason I prize the thousands of letters written me by the readers of this column. I get first-hand information of their desires and needs.

Anyhow, Senator Swanson said: "Let us have a series of articles relating to the summer season—summer fruits, foods and drinks, how to avoid summer diarrhoea, typhoid and malaria, and the importance of calmness of mind."

Then the senator suggested that many a man is upset, thrown off his digestion and made half sick, because of a nagging wife. "But," I broke in, "what about the wife who is pestered and lectured and bent by a disagreeable husband?" We agreed that both sexes have equal occasion to practice forbearance and kindness of conduct. There can be no doubt, I am sure, that happy marital relations have much to do with good temper, good digestion and good health.

Hot weather is indeed, trying to soul and body. Tired, sweaty, suffering bodies set the nerves on edge. It is easy to have a mental explosion, a regular "brain storm" under the physical stress of stifling heat.

The most difficult time in a man's life is from 4 to 7 o'clock in the afternoon. That period is equally trying for the housewife who is preparing dinner in a hot kitchen.

There must be a bridge on the tongue and severe self-restraint during these hours of trouble will begin. A disturbance originating then may be carried on through the evening, break the sleep as it continues, and make the morning after a sort of hell on earth.

To have many such explosions will undermine the health. No one can question that continued unpopularity is fatal to vigor and good health.

Thank you, senator, for your suggestions. I shall accept all of them.

Answers to Health Queries

E. J. Q.—What causes me to stagger on the street? I have pains in my head and am very nervous.

A—Without a personal examination it would be difficult for me to diagnose your troubles. I would suggest that you consult a neurologist.

E. N. Q.—What causes me to have pains in both my knees?

A—You may be troubled with rheumatism due to some sort of infection present in your system. Try to locate the cause, such as teeth, gums, tonsils, nasal sinuses, constipation or a kidney condition.

Marquette

BUILT BY BUICK
BODY BY FISHER
A GUARANTEE OF EXTRA VALUE

"Built by Buick"—only the Marquette in the moderate-price field can offer that priceless recommendation. This remarkable new six provides in every feature the unstinted goodness that has forever established Buick in the public mind as a master builder. Extra quality is everywhere—to provide extraordinary brilliancy in performance, unflinching dependability in service, and unlimited satisfaction in ownership.

On its staunch and sturdy chassis the Marquette carries closed bodies by Fisher—the latest expression of the artistry and craftsmanship of the world's greatest body builder. Smart, low-slung lines—the last word in modern good taste. Interior and exterior finishes of pleasantly blending colors. Tailoring and appointments of exceptional quality and completeness. And such value features as a remarkable new non-glare windshield, to be found on no other automobile; adjustable driver's seat; and beautiful new rubberized mohair upholstery, waterproof, dustproof and wearproof—shown for the first time on Marquette.

The great resources and unparalleled facilities of Buick and Fisher have combined to provide a greater measure of extra value than any car of comparable price offers.

At the first opportunity see and drive the Marquette. Check every feature, make every test.

The Marquette is easy to own. Talk to your dealer about it. You will be surprised at how economically you can buy a Marquette on the liberal G. M. A. C. terms.

Colorado Official Bad-Check Victim

Denver, July 24—A bogus check passing game was executed with surprising exactness and precision here recently in the office of Charles M. Armstrong, Colorado Secretary of State.

Armstrong obligingly cashed a check for a friend and former employee of the department, but when the state official went to the cash drawer to reimburse his own pocket-book, he learned that the cashier held two checks over the same signature that had been returned marked "no funds."

The Secretary of State immediately sent out a crew of detectives who marshaled in the bogus check maker. He was allowed to leave the office upon a promise that he would return within a few minutes with cash to redeem his three checks.

He returned, planked the cash down, and everything was satisfactory until Armstrong visited another office in the department, where he found another check written by the same name and had gone to the home department to cash a fourth check to redeem the first three.

For a second time, the crew of detectives was called into service.

And a second time, under threat of prosecution, the wary visitor produced enough cash to make the checks good.

Armstrong and his assistants heaved a sigh of relief, but the chief wined he would cash no more personal checks.

Lease Coal Land

Lisbon, July 24—Robert Stacey of Lisbon and his associates have taken a 10 year lease on 40 acres of No. 1 coal under the farm of Edward Armstrong in Elkrun township and will begin operations there in September. It was announced today.

THE ONLY ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR

rugged, warp-proof, durable

The General Electric—the first and only refrigerator built entirely of steel. It is as strong as a safe. It cannot warp. Its doors and sills, faced with warp-proof Textolite, cannot sag. It keeps cold and heat out more effectively than any cabinet that has ever been sold.

And the mechanism of the General Electric—how far ahead of the field that is! All enclosed in an hermetically sealed steel casing—unusually quiet, self-oiling, dust-proof—with an easily accessible temperature control. It mounted on top, out of the way... leaving the greatest room inside the cabinet for food storage.

As evidence of guaranteed reliability—there are now more than 300,000 users and not one has ever spent a single dollar for repairs.

See all the models and ask about our plan of conveniently spaced time payments.

POLICE FORCES OF WORLD JOIN IN CRIME WAR

International Campaign Against Activities To Open Soon

SCOTLAND YARD TO
HEAD GREAT FIGHT

Formation of Alliance Between Nations Is Leading Event

London, July 24 — The police forces of the world are combining in a great international drive against crime, and no mercy will be given.

A Police League of Nations is to be formed, and Scotland Yard is to lead the police of more than fifty nations in a world-wide war on organized crime.

At the head of the world alliance will be the "Big Five," Great Britain, America, France, Germany and Austria. The aims of the Police League were summed up recently by Richard E. Enright, President of the International Conference, and for seven years Commissioner of the New York Police, Commissioner Enright said:

"The police forces of the world must bring all their ideas together, and pool their resources to checkmate that highly-skilled, globe-trotting crook who recognizes no frontiers—the international criminal."

The police chiefs of the "Big Five" have for some months been studying the police methods of the larger nations, and their views together with the material gathered by Commissioner Enright, who recently visited the police chiefs of all European capitals, will be placed before the next International Conference in November.

Meanwhile, two members of the "Big Five," M. Chiappe, the Prefect of Paris, and Herr Zörgiebel, head of the Berlin police force, recently visited London, ostensibly to study traffic problems and "admire the scenery"; but it is understood from the highest authority their real purpose was to seek, with Lord Byng, the chief of the Metropolitan police, the best means for securing closing co-operation and co-ordination of the police forces of the world.

Scotland Yard is to be the headquarters from which this world-wide police crusade will be waged against criminals in general, and particularly against:

White slavers and drug traffickers; International forgers and mail robbers; Jewel thieves; Confidence tricksters; Gangsters.

The schemes now being developed will ultimately line up every civilized country in this world-wide crusade. Among other things, the "Big Five" are completing plans for the wide use of international police airplanes, and the provision of the latest in television and wireless picture transmission. Delays caused by the formalities of extradition of criminals are to be reduced to a minimum.

The "Big Five" are starting from the point that the day of the petty thief is over, and that this is the day of the big crime combined with political influence in many countries, and brains and money in all.

Regulate Firearms

As a beginning they will try to regulate the manufacture and distribution of firearms throughout the world. The French chief, M. Chiappe, will organize a campaign of suppression of international white slavers and dope traffickers.

Commissioner Enright and Herr Zörgiebel, who are both experienced in warfare against gangs, will concentrate on smashing the power of the gangster and professional gunman.

Scotland Yard will contribute the benefits of its wonderful wireless system, its comprehensive fingerprint department, and their latest developments in television and wireless picture transmission. Soon the wireless broadcasting of a criminal's photograph and finger prints will be as commonplace as ordinary wireless.

Bureau of Aviation
Created In Boston

Boston, July 24 — A bureau devoted exclusively to the promotion of aviation has been created by the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a leader in aviation development since 1922 and one of the most influential factors in the creation of the East Boston airport.

Theodore Holcombe, an assistant in the civic bureau and long an aviation enthusiast, has been appointed manager of the new bureau and will work in co-operation with the chamber's committee on aviation.

Due to the rapid development of interest in aviation the chamber of commerce has found itself called upon repeatedly to help in the promotion of aviation interests throughout New England. In addition to practical aid in the construction and development of municipal airports, the aviation has been swamped by requests for information concerning the various phases of flying. The steadily increasing volume of aviation activities in New England has made the creation of an aviation bureau a necessity. Peculiar emphasis will be placed on air travel, and all efforts are to be made to aid the advancement of this division of aviation.

The bureau has opened negotiations with the German-Lloyd line for a ship-to-shore airplane service. The service of the bureau will always be at the disposal of firms interested in the development of new airway passenger routes.

St. Louis—Nine contestants are entered in the National Aeronautic Association's international balloon race, which is to be held here on Sept. 28 according to latest reports.

Placing Markers On Ohio Roads Planned

Columbus, O., July 24 — Plans of the Ohio Revolutionary War Memorial Trails commission for a three-day tour of main highways between Toledo and Cincinnati for the purpose of making a preliminary map showing historic places where markers are to be erected, were announced today.

The tour is scheduled to start September 11, following the next meeting of the commission at Toledo.

A. D. Holtermann, Springfield, was chosen chairman of the commission at its initial session held at the offices of Governor Myers Y. Cooper late yesterday. Senator Miles S. Kuhn, Dayton, was selected as vice chairman and C. B. Galbraith, Columbus, was selected as secretary.

Complex Battle Looms In Salem Between Claimants To Title

Six Teams To Demand Recognition For City Laurels This Season

The organization of six baseball teams in Salem involves the city in one of the most keenly contested arguments held in the city for years. The right to represent itself as the leading sandlot outfit.

In the city baseball league, this debate will naturally be settled when the season is over and the titular flag awarded to the team which has the best standing. But this will only open another controversy, with at least two of the other teams claiming the right to the city championship.

The Colonial Billiards have a team entered in the city circuit, but also compete in independent contests with out-of-town teams, in which they present a much more powerful combination than in loop competition. In other words, the Colonial Billiards will be able to contest the city title, along with the Grate Motors, and the city champions, of either of the other three teams in the league annex the laurels in the organized group.

Mullins Noses Out Merchants

Manufacturers Outbid But Register On Errors; Federals Lose

Mullins eliminated the Merchants from the list of probable contenders for the city baseball championship, defeating them 8 to 4 at Centennial park last night.

The body-making crew had its own way the entire game, taking advantage of frequent errors to smash an early lead from which it has never headed. The Merchants' ailing their opponents, but poor base-running kept their run-column down.

Post Office Loses

Electric Furnace scored three runs in the seventh inning and nosed out the Post Office, 8-7, in the first game, played at the park Tuesday. Mullinger swatted a homerun for the Federals in the first, with one to give the mailmen the lead, but excessive hits in the final frame won out for the Furnace.

Return Of Old Pitching Star Aids Redbirds

Grover Alexander Hurls Cards To Victory; Cubs Advance

By LES CONKLIN

New York, July 24.—When Bill McKeechum resumes his managerial duties in St. Louis today he will find his task of jacking up the fading champions made easier by the return to form of Grover Cleveland Alexander, his right bower in other pennant campaigns.

The Grand Old Man of baseball showed all of his old time skill in pitching the Cardinals to an 8-to-2 win over the Phillies yesterday. Although nicked for 10 hits, he struck out seven batters and did not walk a man.

The Cubs advanced to within a single point of the Pirates by blanking the Giants, 2 to 0, while the league leaders were dropping a 10-to-7 slugfest to Brooklyn. In the seventh inning Pitcher Hill of the Pirates filled the bases by intentionally walking Bissonette, a 226 hitter, to get at Billy Rhaiel. The Youngstown (O.) recruit promptly averaged this insult by lacing the ball over the left field fence, breaking up the party.

Root Blanks Giants

Root and "no hit" Hubbell staged a pretty pitching duel in the New York-Chicago game, each allowing only four hits. The Cubs converted doubles by English and Grimm into runs.

Cincinnati shattered Boston's winning streak by annexing the first game of a double bill, 9 to 5, but Delaney whitewashed the Reds in the nightcap, 6 to 0.

In the American League the Yankees inaugurated their home stand with a 7-to-5 triumph over Detroit, thanks to the wilderness of Earl Whitehill, who passed nine men. Phippas pitched for New York.

Yanks-Indians Divide

The Yanks cut Philadelphia's lead to 10 games, as the Macks were set down by Wes Ferrell of Cleveland, 9 to 3, after Rube Walberg had gained a 4-to-1 decision over Willis Hudlin in the first game.

In the nightcap the Indians knocked out Jack Quinn in the ninth inning when they piled up six runs. Jimmy Foxx, Connie Mack's mighty farmer boy, duplicated his record-breaking feat of last season by driving a ball clear over the roof of the left field stands.

The fast-stepping White Sox nosed out Washington, 3 to 2 and the Browns, although outbatted by 13 hits to 12, bunched their blows to down the Red Sox by an 11-to-4 count.

Baltimore—Dr. J. E. Wallace, Wallin, psychologist of national reputation, has been appointed to head a new department in the public schools which will supervise studies and other school work of physically and mentally handicapped children.

Rich Purse Events Feature Schedule At Saratoga Track

Saratoga, N. Y., July 23.—Three rich purse events will mark 88 stakes and special races programmed for one month's racing this summer at this noted New York track. The meet opens July 29 and closes the last day of August.

The three leading races are the Hopeful, set for Aug. 31; the Saratoga Special scheduled for Aug. 10, and the Travers Midsummer Derby, which will be run Aug. 17.

The Hopeful is expected to gross close to $70,000 and in all about $600,000 will be awarded in purses during the meeting. It is estimated the stakes will gross more than $350,000 and the over night purses more than $250,000.

On opening day race fans will witness renewals of the Flash, a sprint for five and one-half furlongs for two-year-olds and the Saratoga handicap over the mile and a quarter route for older horses. In addition to the Hopeful the final day of the meeting the program will include the Saratoga Steeplechase and the Saratoga Cup.

The stake program in July will include in addition to the Flash, a $20,000 added, to be run July 30 and the $5,000 Schuylerville for two-year-old fillies programmed for July 31.

Noted Polo Player Seriously Injured

Cleveland, July 24.—The condition of James A. Wignmore, noted polo player and member of the famous Chagrin Valley Hunt team that won the National Interclub championship in 1927, who was seriously injured in a practice game at the Chagrin Valley field yesterday, was reported as "fair" by hospital attendants today.

Suffering from concussion of the brain, the polo player had regained semi-consciousness early today after being unconscious for hours. Physicians said they did not regard Wignmore's condition as serious unless unforeseen complications set in.

Cleveland Boxing Bout Postponed

Cleveland, July 24.—Rained out by a cloudburst which broke during the third round of the first bout, the long-heralded boxing show which was to have been held last night in Taylor bowl was postponed until tonight.

Although disappointed because they were not able to tackle each other last night, Maxie Strub and Joie Goodman, lightweight finalists, indicated today they would be quite ready to scrap it out tonight.

Texas Wizard Wins

Berkely Bell, aged 22, Texas tennis star, brilliantly strode through the New York State singles to carry home the bacon. His win over Frankie Shields in the finals was a masterly exhibition.

Paolini Regarded As Most Colorful Figure In Ring

Basque Woodchopper, Though Annihilated by Herr Maxie, Remains Dapper Personage, Possessing 900 Neckties, 40 Suits; "Loves Life"

A man who, as the fellow says, "loves life" owns 40 suits of clothes, about 900 neckties and almost as many shirts—that's Paulino Uzcudun, who is still the picturesque boxer from Spain's sunny slopes who was so badly beaten by Max Schmeling.

The former Basque woodchopper throws off plenty of color both in and out of the ring and is regarded as one of the most interesting men the Old World has contributed to the upper rungs of the realm of pugilism since the days of Charley Mitchell and Jim Macoe, almost half a century ago.

Unlike Firpo the South American who almost won the world's title when he battled Jack Dempsey out of the ring, Paulino is what is known as a "spender" and "good sport." He does not throw away his money in the fashions of some of the American champions of earlier days who always lived to regret their trodding of the primrose, but he "believes in the best." He dresses in the height of fashion and his clothes are modeled from the most expensive and exclusive materials.

Travels In Style

He delights in "traveling in style" and maintains a retinue of assistants, trainers and traveling companions.

The Spaniard's favorite sport is the so-called Cuban game of jai alai. He plays the game himself but does not bet on his ability. He likes horse-racing but refuses to "play the ponies."

"Umsi," who has been a regular trial horse for most of the heavies aspiring to wear the crown tossed off by the intellectual Gene Tunney and who has battled most of the so-called heavyweight contenders, so-far to attract much attention in New York until he caused Harry Wills, the negro, to fold up like a Japanese umbrella. The heavy pummeling that Mr. Paulino gave Wills caused the leading experts to turn to him immediately after the negro was assisted from the ring in the fourth round, unable to continue against the Spaniard's attack on his stomach.

After that the Basque was in a position to "talk turkey" to managers and promoters but he never fought for large purses until he met the German in the Milk Fund bouts. Previously his biggest purse was $40,000, which he received for his fight with George Godfrey, the Philadelphia negro.

Invests Money

Paulino is not a millionaire, such as a classed Dempsey, Firpo, and Tunney, but he is wealthy. He has invested most of his earnings in real estate in Spain.

The Basque was one of ten children, one of whom is now a monk, another a professor and a third a wrestler.

His father having died when he was a small boy, Paulino went to work at a tender age as a wood-chopper. He toiled many days from 6 o'clock in the morning until sunset receiving about $1.50 for his day's labors.

His woodchopping, however, is believed to have stood him in good stead for his career as a prizefighter, developing his hands and giving him powerful arms and shoulders.

"ETERNAL LOVE"
The high Swiss Alps and the simple folks who dwell in one of the villages provide the locale for "Eternal Love." Barrymore is a dare-devil hunter a wild blade who rebels at authority. There are two women in this life one, a spiritual type (Camilla Horn) whom he deeply loves, and the other a hard-boiled spitfire (Mona Rico), who sets her cap for him.

The idyllic romance goes on the rocks, when the hunter, befuddled with wine after a mountain carnival, is ensnared into an affair with the girl he doesn't love. The code of the mountains forces him to marry the girl and his heart-broken sweetheart becomes the bride of the village's wealthiest man (Victor Varconi), a jealous, brooding individual with a lifelong hatred of the dashing hunter.

Camilla tries to forget her sweetheart, but she unconsciously reveals her love for him when he is lost in a storm. Her jealous-crazed husband tries to kill Barrymore, but he himself killed in a duel.

The hunter is accused of murder; he flees into the high Alps and Camilla, sacrificing all for the man she loves, goes with him. The sweethearts, pursued by a mob, ascend higher and higher into the mountains, where they are engulfed by an avalanche and die in each other's arms.

"MY LADY'S PAST"
Belle Bennett gives one of her usual brilliant portraits in "My Lady's Past," the Tiffany-Stahl feature in which she is starring at the Royal theater.

Miss Bennett plays a woman who has spent the best years of her life waiting for one man to make good. Manne has been sunk in the depths of despair and self-pity over the desertion of her fiance of ten years. Sam Young, played by Joe E. Brown, when a suicide points to a clandestine love affair and at once her stock goes up.

What Manne does then to bring the errand Sam back to her arms provides Belle Bennett with one of her best roles. Besides Joe E. Brown, others in the cast are Russell Simpson, Joan Stepping, and Billie Bennett. Albert Ray directed this original story by Frances Hyland.

"ASK DAD"
Edward Everett Horton, Winston Miller and Ruth Renick have the leading roles in the new talking comedy, "Ask Dad," a playlet in dialogue, which will be on the program at the State theater for the last time tonight.

SNOOK TRIAL

emphatically refuse, declaring that if the murder had been planned it would have been executed in a manner less likely to result in the perpetrator's apprehension.

An expert shot with the pistol, Snook could have ambushed Miss Hix, he pointed out, or he might have used drugs, available to him for the purpose of ridding himself of her.

In substantiation of this contention that there was no premeditation, criminologists assert that passion slayers have no thought of consequences once the will to kill overcomes them and they usually make little attempt, if any, to cover up the crime. In the case of the slaying of Miss Hix, the professor suddenly became inflamed with rage and while in the throes of frenzy he seized a hammer and struck his sweetheart many times. But like other passion slayers he neglected to hide the tell-tale evidence. He did not clean up.

Bloodstained Shirt
The police found his bloodstained shirt and hat and more stains in his automobile. Those discoveries led to his undoing. After hours of grilling he broke down and confessed.

Most of the country's deliberate killers think of bloodstains and avoid them. They usually are more adroit at avoiding detection and punishment than are the so-called "passion slayers."

The forty-nine year old Dr. Snook met Miss Hix, who was 24 when she was slain, when she came to Ohio State to become a medical student. That was about three years ago. Their friendship grew into intimacy in spite of the fact that Snook was a married man and the father of a small child.

In his confession, Snook said that during the three years that he knew Miss Hix he assisted her in many ways toward an education. He said further:

Not Love Affair
"Our association was not a love affair in any sense of the word, but in time Miss Hix developed a more determined attitude in regard to dictating my movements, and the final culmination of this occurred on the 13th of June when I met Miss Hix at the corner of Twelfth and High street, Columbus, when we both got into my coupe and proceeded to drive to Lane avenue and then west out to the Fisher road and to the Columbus rifle range of the New York Central Railroad Company, during which she remonstrated with me against leaving the city with my family for the weekend as I had previously planned to do."

"She threatened that if I did so that she would take the life of my wife and baby. During this quarrel she grabbed for the purse in which she sometimes carried a 41-calibre Derringer which I had given her."

Hit On The Head
In the struggle she was hit on the head with a hammer with the intent to stun her. She continued desperately and an increased number of blows of increasing force were necessary to stop her. Realizing then, no doubt, that her skull was fractured and to relieve her suffering, I severed her jugular with my pocket knife."

For days after he had confessed, he sat in jail seeking to comprehend that he was a murderer. A week after he had confessed he told this writer, in an hour's interview, that he was a puzzle, even to himself. He had thought, he said, that he was "normal in every respect."

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

"All I want is a little salad—the less food I see the better." Most of us feel that way in hot weather. Yet it's not good to abandon all nourishing food, although it is wise to eat down on the quantity. The body needs sustenance no matter what the thermometer says, nor how desiccated the appetite.

One of the ingenious ways of condensing nourishment in small dishes is to stuff the vegetables. A few leaves of lettuce with "tomato surprise" looks like very little—just enough for a hot day. But tucked within may be all sorts of wholesome tasty foods that are really nutritious.

Tomatoes and cucumbers may be stuffed either hot or cold. Eggs, peppers, onions and potatoes must first be cooked. Then they may be served either hot or cold stuffed. Squash, eggplant, cauliflower are best served hot when stuffed. All of the fillings described below are interchangeable—they're just as good stuffed in one vegetable as another.

Vegetables for stuffing should be carefully selected. They should be perfectly shaped and, as near as possible, be all the same size, as this improves the serving appearance.

Stuffed Peppers

- 4 peppers.
- 1 cup diced (not chopped) chicken
- 1 cup bread crumbs.
- 1/2 cup milk.
- 1 egg.
- 1 tablespoon melted butter.
- 1 teaspoon salt.
- 1 teaspoon onion juice.
- 1 teaspoon ketchup.
- 1 dash of pepper.

Cut off stem end of peppers and remove seeds and fibers. Beat the egg, mix with other ingredients and pack the peppers. Place in a saucepan, with three or four tablespoons of hot water and cook for about half an hour over a moderate fire, adding a little more hot water when necessary to prevent scorching. This is easier than baking—and not so heating.

Stuffed Tomatoes, Cold

- 4 large tomatoes.
- 1 green pepper.
- 1 new green onion.
- 2 stuffed olives, minced.
- 1 cup shredded cabbage.
- 1 sprig parsley or dill.
- 1/2 lemon.
- 1 teaspoon salt.

Cut tops off tomato and scoop out the inside, but not too thoroughly. Cook the shredded cabbage in a little boiling water until tender—which should be only five or ten minutes. Drain and cool. Mix with other ingredients and seasonings and pack into tomato shells. Serve on bed of lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

To stuff squash or cucumbers, remove the seeds but not all pulp. Cut cucumbers in half lengthwise after peeling and boil in salted water a few minutes, until partly tender. Mix the mashed pulp with seasoning, bread crumbs, a beaten egg, some melted butter, or whatever meat or other vegetables are at hand.

Squash is best with a plain stuffing. Cut top off and remove seeds. Mix 2 cups of bread crumbs with 1 tablespoon of onion juice, 1 tablespoon of butter, enough hot water to make a smooth mixture, and some salt and pepper. Fill the squash and bake about 45 minutes or longer if needed to make tender.

Any meat chopped or diced, flaked cooked fish, or canned fish like sardines, salmon, or tuna may be added to bread crumbs, seasoned and served as stuffing. If fish is used, add a little anchovy paste to the mixture instead of salt—it improves the flavor. Grated cheese, cooked corn or cob, mushrooms, shrimps are a few other possibilities for nourishing stuffings.

Caveman "Rebuilt" For Chicago Display

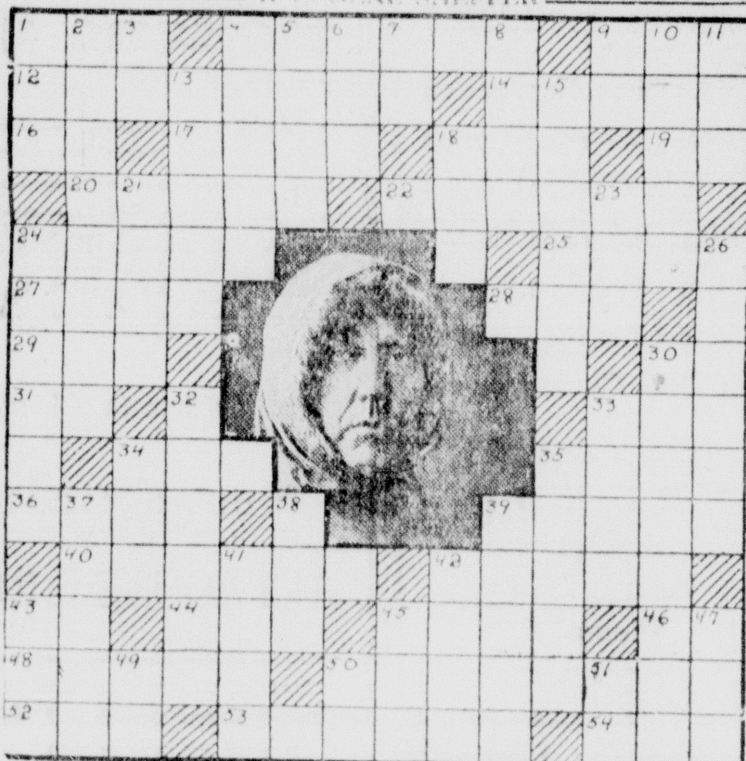

Chicago, July 2.—The first authoritative life-size reconstruction ever made of a caveman and his family has been completed by the Field Museum and is on display in Chicago.

The reconstruction represents one of the earliest types of prehistoric man, the apelike Neanderthal or Mousterian man. This race, which lived in western Europe at the last glacial period, represents the earliest stage of human existence of which complete skeletons have been found. It is estimated the race is more than 50,000 years old. The group is the result of the recent Captain Marshall Field archaeological expedition to Europe.

The designer and sculptor of the group is Frederick H. Black, of Gold Spring, N. Y., who accompanied the expedition to Europe.

Special Officer Battles 11 Men; Given Decision

Cleveland, July 24.—Lieut. Reed Hess, members of the private police squad at Bainbridge race track, was nursing scratches and bruises today after having successfully put to flight 14 men whom he claimed were out-of-town bookmakers seeking to get back on the track.

Hess, who is a "six-footer" and a World war veteran, viciously battled the 14 men who attacked him and put them to flight before police aid arrived.

Seven of the bookmakers, according to Thomas J. McGinty, operator of the track, had been chased off the Bainbridge track yesterday. He believed they had returned to either discuss their chances of getting back to the track or to take revenge on the police for ousting them.

Aviator Completes Millionth Air Mile

Chicago, July 24.—When E. Hamilton Lee, senior air mail pilot of the country, brought his ship down at the municipal airport today, he had completed his millionth mile on the airways.

Lee flies the Chicago-Omaha division of the Boeing system. He has been flying 16 years and has never had a serious crash. His experience covers practically every phase of military and commercial aviation.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, July 24.—Summer sports wear is surprisingly smart and slim-fitting this season. Well-cut lines and beautiful color combinations are the rule.

Some are in heavy crepe de Chine with pleated skirts printed in a deep border of harmonizing colors with the same in the bands at the neck, pockets and wrists. Others are in kasha in wide diagonal stripes and there are also jumpers of plain kasha with encaustic bands in a contrasting color with pleated skirts in criss-cross patterns of the two shades.

Costumes in white crepe de Chine have pleated skirts with a printed border of red, blue or green, with a plain slim jumper trimmed in the same bright tones.

Wash silk of which men's shirts are made in wide stripes of different tones, with tailored chemisettes and narrow box-pleated skirts, also made smart sports wear. Printed linen is used for two-piece costumes with collar, cuffs and little vest of plain white.

A smart two-piece sports costume comes in brown silk jersey with vest and cuffs of bright yellow. Another in the popular flax colors is a skirt of navy-blue crepe de Chine with a little design in encaustic bands of red and white at the sides and a sweater of red jersey-trousers with navy-blue bands.

A chic golf-suit of tweed jersey has the jacket cut like a man's, the skirt just flared enough for ease of movement and sturdy seams. The little tuck-in tailored blouse comes in white tub-silk.

Baltimore—Unexpected progress in the construction of the municipal airport indicates that it will be complete and ready for use next year, a year earlier than was expected.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

From her art student days in Paris Lois has transplanted one habit into her present domesticity—work clothes that are comfortable, but good to look at. A unique costume—but much to be said for it.

"I don't like aprons, bungalows or any other kind," she explained. "They're too aggressively domestic. And hot. I used to these things that I used to wear in my studio, and what was comfortable enough for painting is comfortable for cooking and house-cleaning. I find. Try it."

What she designs and wears is a sort of glorified pajamas. Sleeveless blouse with a deep V-neck, slipping easily over the head and with no buttons or clasps. This item hangs outside loose-fitting trousers which are buttoned at the side, and have, therefore, no elastic to bind the waistline. When Lois feels affluent she gets a couple of yards of silk; otherwise she makes the outfit of cotton cretine, satine or other colorful bits she has a genius for picking up at small prices. True, it does look more studio-like than kitchen, but the idea has much to recommend it. For one thing, there are no billowy waves around the knees or ankles, although the costume covers her adequately. It's very cool, especially since no other outer garment needs to be worn.

Incidentally, it's a good-looking outfit, because Lois uses all sorts of interesting new fabrics and color schemes. Black silk relieves by edgings of bright strips or futuristic angles applied at one or two places. Cool greens, edged with yellow and black. No two alike and every set good to look at.

A good looking and suitable costume has a great effect on our attitude toward a job. What could be more cheerless than the custom, still followed by many housekeepers, of wearing around the house the street clothes that have seen better days? Or even party clothes? No doubt it's more economical to wear last year's silk as a house dress than to throw it away. But is it comfortable? Maisie, indeed, looked rather depressed, running the vacuum cleaner while arrayed in a passe geometrie frock. And what modern housekeeper could be merry if she had to wear checked blue aprons, gathered in front, and tied in the middle, bag-fashion—the uniform of the sedate housewives of the nineties?

Colorful smocks are inexpensive, good-looking and as practical to the woman who works at home as they are to the office woman. And you can have a number in so many gay patterns and colors that there's plenty of variety with a small outlay. Smocks are an excellent protection even for street clothes for ordinary household duties—cooking and dusting. Or if water's to be splashed about, good-looking rubberized costumes are available. Many are of rubberized silk, colorful and good looking, appearing more silky than rubbery to the eye. Easy to keep clean, for they may be washed in a little soap and water and dried with a soft towel immediately.

Even less expensive is the new paper composition apron which comes in a completely enveloping size. It is waterproof and stain-proof and light-weight and costs little. Doesn't need any laundering—just an occasional wiping with a damp anyway. But there's always some odd job, and we can't afford to hire someone every time we need a nail driven in. Jerry's alibi always used to be that the tools were no good. Sure, he would love to do any repairs or building if I asked him, and he had the tools. Well, goodbye, alibi. With the new tool chest Jerry can have some necessary expense and you'll see lots of improvements around the house next time you come.

It's curious that women expect a man to take naturally to shelf-hanging and nail-driving, just like men expect a woman to know cooking and housekeeping by instinct. And what's stranger still, is that they frequently do. But the modern woman has scientific equipment at her command. With all sorts of effective labor-savers and cook books to guide her, she can't go very far wrong more than once.

Surely, the husband should have a break in this homemaking business, too. If he's expected to do some house jobs he ought to have the right tools to do them with. Incidentally, possession of a set of good tools often turns the trick of giving a manual interest where there was once only good-natured indifference to house chores.

Hunt Head Hunters In Dutch Borneo

Chicago, July 24.—The All-American Lyric anthropological and radio research expedition to Dutch Borneo has arrived, according to communications received here, and shortly will start a 250-mile journey up the Barito River for the Main base of the Poerok-Tjahoe in the land of the stories of head-hunters.

The party will spend a year in the dense jungles to study the effect of radio in the tropics. The culture of the Slang Dyaks and particularly the mysterious Punans about whom little is known to anthropologists will be studied. The party, less of their whereabouts, will be in touch with civilization through short wave travelling radio station.

We Tell You The Truth About Our Used Cars

When you buy a used car it's pretty hard to tell its condition just by looking at it.

Our appraisal of every used car is based on our mechanic's knowledge of its actual worth. And when we sell it we will always tell all we know about it.

We want you to be satisfied with the used car you buy here because we want to keep you as a used and new car customer.

It pays, in the long run, to buy a used car from a Buick dealer.

DRIVER FREED OF BUS BLAME
Man Not Responsible For Crash Near Salem June 29

Columbus, O., July 24.—That the driver of the bus which overturned near Canfield June 29, resulting in the death of a child and seven others, was not to blame for the accident is the declaration contained in a report which was filed with the state utilities commission.

The bus belonged to the Youngstown & Suburban Transit company and was enroute from Youngstown to Canfield at the time of the accident. The report, covering investigation of the accident, attributed the cause of the accident to the breaking of the left rear spring of the bus.

After inspection by the company, the bus was taken to a place where it was repaired and was recommended in a report which was submitted by J. E. Evans, chief inspector in the commission's motor bus division. The company, it was stated, concurred in this recommendation.

Record Set When Pen Takes Forger

Columbus, O., July 24.—Robert D. Norwood, 34, of Cleveland is in the Ohio state penitentiary here today. Norwood was arrested in Wilmington yesterday morning on a forgery charge. He was indicted a short time later. Then came the arraignment, and he pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to one to three years in the state prison and was brought to the penitentiary here, so he holds a record of being arrested, indicted, arraigned, sentenced and incarcerated in one day.

ACIDINE never fails to banish and keep it away.

This remarkable new discovery really is a remedy, not merely a relief, for indigestion, gas, sour stomach, sick headache, acid stomach, chronic constipation, flatulence and acid rheumatism. It alkalizes, broadens and acid rheumatism. It alkalizes, broadens and acid rheumatism. It alkalizes, broadens and acid rheumatism.

ACIDINE is the only perfect, modern, anti-acid which is combined with Daptone, a powerful starch digestant—it digests 900 times its own weight of pure potato starch in 30 minutes. Your stomach deserves protection. ACIDINE gives it.

A most and starch digestant, anti-acid and emollient beyond compare. Soothing to the stomach and intestinal membrane. A really perfect medicine for mother, father, children and babies. Usual recommended by physicians everywhere. Move back guarantee. At all druggists, or write Health Laboratories, Inc., 1000 Broadway, New York 10, for a free trial.

Proud Of Her Son

MRS. MARGARET YANCEY, mother of Capt. Lewis A. Yancey, navigator of the United States to Rome plane Pathfinder, rejoicing in her home at 4914 W. Quincy st., Chicago, at news of successful completion of the flight. Her family did not tell of the flight until it was over, but she read the newspapers.

VIEWS OF COLORADA TRAIN WRECK

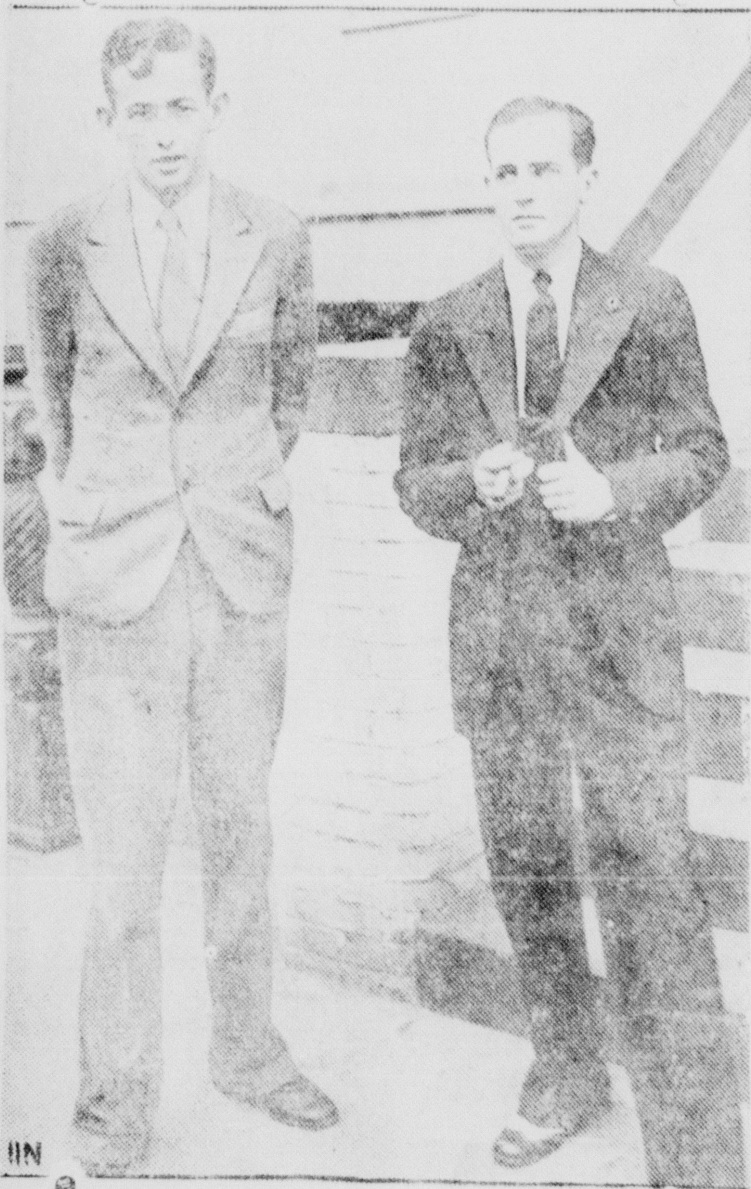

VIEWS of the scene of the Colorado express near Stratton, Col., taken shortly after the disaster. In the foreground is the highway and a few feet beyond it the railroad, with wrecked cars strewn about as so many paper boxes. Crowds of people gathered to look at the gruesome sight, but are held back by high waters, still white with foam and twisting and churning from a storm. At right, a railroad derrick tugs at a coach, attempting to drag it from the water.

Plan Round-Trip of United States

Capt. Eddie Nelson, left, and Capt. Roy W. Ammel, veteran Chicago pilots, plan the route for their proposed round trip, non-stop flight from Chicago to the West coast, thence to the East coast and back to Chicago, a total distance of approximately 7,000 miles. They expect to re-fuel in the air, and to make the trip in something like 60 hours.

Annapolis Hoax Case Quashed

Henry Sherwin Rupp, left, and Paul Schooner, are shown leaving the office of U. S. Commissioner Needham C. Turner at Annapolis, Md., after hoax charges against the midshipmen were dismissed. Schooner had been accused of substituting for Rupp during an academy physical examination.

An Invitation

What is there about some stores—there is a certain "something" — that makes us like to go to one store, and avoid another?

We don't know just what it is, but we do know that we try to make our store a sort of friendly place to trade at, and that you will like the treatment you receive here — you will like the store "atmosphere."

Perhaps it is because we appreciate patronage, and show that we appreciate it. Perhaps it is because we are glad to have you look around at the many beautiful furniture pieces here, and because we do not urge people to buy if they are not out to buy.

We invite you to come here as often as you wish to and to stay as long as you please. Please don't be a bit timid. We mean just what we say — you are welcome and we will be glad to see you.

Just now there is an exceptionally fine showing of rugs and other things most needed. Quality furniture of every kind, that you ought to come in and admire, even if you are not buying.
